The destroyer flotilla composed of the flagship Ottawa, Resolute, Fraser and St. Laurent, commanded by Capt. G. C. Jones, met the liner Princess Marguerite carrying Royal party from Vancouver to Victoria in English Bay.

Moving slowly forward two abreast, the warships waited for the liner, which passed between them and, as it did, the destroyers' crews manned ship and gave three hearty cheers for "His Majesty the King."

The warships then took up station.

Gray's Counsel Points To Office Clerk As Handler Big Affairs

BROOKS, Alta., May 29—W. H. McLean, K.C. of Calgary, counsel for E. L. Gray, former Eastern Irrigation District manager, today indicated before the Jackson Royal Commission that Gray's clerk, a woman, handled the big affairs of the $12,000,000 project, and questioned the capabilities of the appointee.

The commission, headed by Judge John A. Jackson of Lethbridge, is probing affairs of the district following alleged irregularities in the provincial auditors' criticism of E. L. Gray in his last November report.

George A. Robertson, appointed by the provincial government to direct the E. L. Gray inquiry, today said that was today's main witness.

Mr. McLean, in cross-examining Mr. Robertson, elicited from him that he had been business superintendent of the E.I.D. as the co-operative project was taken over from the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1935 and that he had done clerical work with the C.P.R. party in the district for 26 years previous.

TO OFFICE WORK

"Your experience has been restricted solely and entirely to office work during that time," Mr. McLean asked.

"Yes," replied Mr. Robertson. "Well, today you are the man in sole charge of this huge $12,000,000 project and you have taken the place of the manager and of the entire board of trustees and you have complete charge," continued Mr. McLean.

"I have," replied the witness. "Do you consider yourself capable of this responsibility?" asked Mr. McLean.

G. M. Blackstock, K.C., Medicine Hat, commission counsel, objected to the last question. Judge Jackson ruled that it would not be necessary for the witness to answer.

Activities of a subsidiary company, the Irrigation Development Land Company, allegedly existing to handle sub-marginal lands within the district, were also in the Company minutes, read into the members of the provincial legislature who held the shares, and Mr. Robertson, assigned one share.

Reasons for organization of the E.I.D. included:

1.—That the E.I.D. had received from the C.P.R. as a gift of lands of about 2,000 acres.

2.—A number of residents refused either to lease or purchase cheap lands even though they were using them while the E.I.D. was paying carrying charges.

3.—Taxing authorities looked to the E.I.D. and expected taxes paid immediately in cash whether the lands were producing revenue or not.

"For these reasons, the commission was told, it was decided to hold control of this non-productive land in a separate group and therefore the E.I.D. was organized."

Evidence showed that $1,978 acres had been transferred to the E.I.D. of which 2,977 acres had been sold in the name of the E.I.D. 7,680 acres were returned to the E.I.D. and 2,508 acres were still held by the E.I.D.

Mr. Blackstock stated that lands sold could have been sold just as well to the E.I.D. without necessity of organizing the new company.

William McLean of Bassano, counsel for the former trustees, Earl Anderson, Rev. J. H. Robertson, and the Hon. J. H. Robertson, claimed the trustees had done their job well.

As a result of the board of trustees the burden of debt on the E.I.D. in the four years, from 1935 to 1939, was reduced from $5,000,000 to $1,000,000, Mr. McLean said.

While the C.P.R. had lost about $300,000 in operating the district, the E.I.D. made an operating profit of $67,000 in four years, he said.

The number of farmers involved in the district was 390 in 1935, and they were able to make a success out of their farming efforts, he said.

After inspecting the well-armed guard of the Fifth British Columbia Coast Brigade, the King and Queen walked to the top of the stairs where Mr. McGowan received a bouquet from 12-year-old Anne Collier, granddaughter of the Premier.

For the first time since her arrival in Canada nearly two weeks ago, the Queen wore a long gown to a room party given in her honor by the province.

A single orchid was pinned to her shoulder, matching exactly her long orchid afternoon gown with simple plain skirt.

Behind them rode Prince Michael of Kent, King and Queen's son, and Mr. Hamer in his car, Premier Pattullo and his wife, and Hon. Ian Macdonald, national defence minister.

The royal automobile was immediately behind a police car and the procession through the business and residential streets to Government House overlooking the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Behind them rode Prince Michael of Kent, King and Queen's son, and Mr. Hamer in his car, Premier Pattullo and his wife, and Hon. Ian Macdonald, national defence minister.

The rain fell harder as they drove past soaked spectators lining the sidewalks of more than 600 on each side of the narrow street.

members of the provincial legislature who held the shares, and Mr. Robertson, assigned one share.

Reasons for organization of the E.I.D. included:

"For these reasons, the commission was told, it was decided to hold control of this non-productive land in a separate group and therefore the E.I.D. was organized."

Evidence showed that $1,978 acres had been transferred to the E.I.D. of which 2,977 acres had been sold in the name of the E.I.D. 7,680 acres were returned to the E.I.D. and 2,508 acres were still held by the E.I.D.

Mr. Blackstock stated that lands sold could have been sold just as well to the E.I.D. without necessity of organizing the new company.

William McLean of Bassano, counsel for the former trustees, Earl Anderson, Rev. J. H. Robertson, and the Hon. J. H. Robertson, claimed the trustees had done their job well.

As a result of the board of trustees the burden of debt on the E.I.D. in the four years, from 1935 to 1939, was reduced from $5,000,000 to $1,000,000, Mr. McLean said.

SHANGHAI, May 30.—A Japanese army spokesman announced today that friction along the border between Japanese-dominated Manchukuo and Soviet Russian-dominated outer Mongolia had assumed warlike proportions.

TOKYO, May 30.—Manchukuo today demanded evacuation of Manchukuo territory already occupied by invading forces of Soviet-supported outer Mongolia in various skirmishes in the region of Lake Baikal. The demand was registered in a diplomatic protest.

Official communiques, giving more details of the fighting on the far western frontier, said the Mongols had lost 130 infantrymen in attacks on Manchukuo positions, while the defenders had lost nine. Accounts yesterday said 42 "Mongol" planes had been shot down in an air battle.

Japanese newspapers, commenting on the situation, unanimously predicted a "second Changkufeng"—the series of Japanese-Soviet Russian battles waged last July and August along the Siberian-Manchukuo-Korea border—was developing.

KING, QUEEN WATCH RESCUE OF YACHTSMAN

Unidentified Man Falls Overboard As Royal Ship Passes

By ARTHUR MERKEL
Canadian Press Staff Writer
VANCOUVER, May 30.—The King and Queen watched the rescue late Monday of an unidentified man who fell from a power yacht as they sailed out of Vancouver towards Victoria through a strange, informal guard of honor composed of 500 flag-decked yachts and fishing boats.

As the steamship Princess Margaret, carrying the Royal party, neared the Lions Gate bridge, which spans the harbor mouth, the yachtman became so excited he fell from his craft.

The Queen noticed the man's plight and quickly pointed out the accident to the King. Their Majesties stayed by the Marguerite's bridge rail until the man caught a lifebuoy and was pulled aboard his boat.

From the shore, the yacht's name could not be seen, her stern being pointed in the opposite direction. Later she was lost in a group of other vessels.

The paid-off-boat formed by the yachts was an untrained sort of affair. At times its double line was so narrow the Princess Margaret almost brushed their hulls. For several miles the steamship was barely able to edge her way along at slowest speed.

WESTMINSTER TO GREET ROYALTY ON WEDNESDAY

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., May 30.—Residents of this historic city on the Fraser river and thousands of farmers and their families in the adjoining Fraser valley get their chance to see The King and Queen Wednesday.

Some of them travelled Monday to Vancouver for a glimpse of their Sovereigns, and those along the river's north bank watched the Royal train on its way to Vancouver.

But just a mile across the river from the Canadian Pacific railway track, in which their Majesties travelled westward, men, women and children will gather at crossroads and hamlets along the Canadian National line in the hope King George and Queen Elizabeth show themselves as they begin their eastward rail journey.

New Westminster is five miles from the nearest point on the C.P.R. main line at Port Moody on Burrard Inlet. Most people in this city founded in 1859 by Royal Engineers sent out from England to establish a Fraser river town decided to wait until their Majesties motor here Wednesday.

Jasper Park Is Assuming Its Summer Dress

JANPER, Alta., May 30.—Dane Nelson, putting Jasper National Park into its summer dress to welcome King George and Queen Elizabeth for their second rest stop in Alberta on their Canadian visit.

In the valley, along lake shores and river banks and on mountain slopes the green of summer is being painted brighter by nature's deft hands to give their Majesties a royal setting for their one-day stay.

The royal train will arrive Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. Just as their visit to Banff National Park and westward trip was without formal reception, so also will be the Jasper visit.

The Dominion of Canada is the world's largest source of platinum metals.

When The King And Queen Made Triumphal Tour Through Vancouver's Streets

Rushed to Edmonton by air express, these pictures depict the way in which Vancouver welcomed Their Majesties to the coast city on Monday. Top: Scottish children ready... ay, ready, as they take up their places in the line on Cambie street reserved for the Scottish societies of the city. Lower photo: "Here comes the King!" and the crowd breaks into a mighty cheer.

A hero gets his Royal reward. One of six Vancouver holders of the Victoria Cross, presented Monday to Their Majesties in Vancouver's city council chamber, is above as the Monarchs exchange a few words with him about his war experiences. The V.C. took precedence in order of presentation over aldermen and wives. Others in the picture include Mayor J. Lyle Telford, in his robes of office; Mrs. Telford, Premier Mackenzie King and Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of national defence.

Vancouver Welcomes Their Majesties in Typically British Style

By R. K. CARNEGIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER, May 30.—Citizens making enthusiastic reception given the King and Queen from Quebec in the Pacific. Vancouver, its normal population doubled to 60,000, welcomed the Royal couple in typically British fashion Monday.

For Their Majesties it was like through this great port and its suburbs and heard 20,000 Scottish-Canadians singing "Will Ye No Come Back Again!"

CIVIC RECEPTION

They were given a civic reception, attended a civic luncheon and viewed Vancouver's skyline of tall buildings, sea and mountains before making ready for their long drive. Their route unfolded the panorama of the mainland but haze hid the view toward Vancouver Island where they were escorted by four destroyers and a fleet of aircraft.

Even the weather was typically British early in the day with skies overcast and threatening rain, but their Majesties' fair weather luck held and the sun shone on them in the afternoon.

WON APPLAUSE

The Royal couple won applause everywhere for their amiable and democratic interest in everything and everybody they saw. "Oh, she's a Scottish lassie and I'm a lovely," Scots murmured as the Royal procession moved by them. They were proud of all this country people today.

ONLY CIVIC MACE

Vancouver being Canada's only civic mace and the only mace struck during the brief reign of Edward VIII. It was given to the city by Sir Percy Vincent, former Lord Mayor of London.

Outside the crowds included thousands of Americans who came here from the North-western States to join in the reception, and thousands who came by motor car to see the King and Queen.

They paid as high as $20 for seats on hundreds of bicycles selling the royal route, carried campstools, kitchen chairs and even strollers to be sure of a good view of the King and Queen.

They saw the specifically-gilded King's saloon through the city while the Queen's smile and the King's salute recognized the cheers of the massed thousands many of whom had waited since early morning.

There was a special smile and wave from the Queen in reply to the singing Scottish Canadians as the couple passed through Little Mountain Park, where the singers were massed.

UNSCHEDED VISIT

There was a touching scene as their Majesties paid an unscheduled visit to Shaughnessy military hospital where they saw the faces of veterans too ill to join their comrades along the route.

One veteran, Mr. A. Ross, was overcome with emotion as the wind whipped his blanket away and the King carefully regarded it around his shoulders. Their Majesties then moved on to the homes of the veterans and chatted a minute or two. Ten nurses also had the thrill of a presentation.

HEPBURN-KING FEUD STILL ON AVERS PREMIER

TORONTO, May 30.—Premier Mitchell Hepburn said a "blatant position" is "unhappy" in relation to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Ottawa, through Mr. Hepburn's refusal to meet Mr. Mackenzie King might be ending the intensity when the pair met during the visit of the King and Queen to Toronto, last week. Mr. Hepburn has frequently stated opposition to Owen Sound, Ont., last week.

"Yes, my position is unchanged," the premier said in answer to a reporter's question.

Mr. Hepburn at the same time said he is "planning to arrange an early meeting" with Premier Mackenzie Dupuis of Quebec "to discuss matters of mutual interest."

ARCHBISHOP'S PALACE SEIZED BY NAZI AIDES

BERLIN, May 30.—Nazi authorities have seized the palace of Archbishop Sigismund Weiss, Catholic primate of Germany, residence of the furniture and turned over the historic building to the black-shirted elite guard.

The Archbishop was out of town when furniture was drawn up to the palace. A dozen workmen carried out the furniture, which were placed in storage.

By means of an upside-down "periscope" thrust through the floor of a palace, the Nazis carefully regarded it around his shoulders. Their Majesties then moved on to the homes of the veterans and chatted a minute or two. Ten nurses also had the thrill of a presentation.

PORTAGE NOW KINGSWAY BY COUNCIL LAW

To commemorate the visit of Their Majesties, Portage Avenue will be known after June 2 as "Kingsway". The present Kingsway, which cuts Portage at right angles, will take the name of Portage.

To honor the memory of the Queen's visit, Riverside Park will be renamed Queen Elizabeth Park.

Both these names were bestowed in a special bylaw passed by council at a meeting Monday.

Royal Progress and, with bleachers lining both its sides, at present is probably the world's longest grandstand.

Riverside Park has been a park since 1910 and has an area of 75 acres, on the south bank of the North Saskatchewan river.

Ald. E. Brown complimented the special committee on its selection of names for commemoration of the Royal Visit, but added that the High Level bridge ought to be re-named.

IN BACKWOODS

"This business of high level, low level sounds as though we are still in the backwoods," he said.

"Perhaps we had better sav-

"Oh, Royal is such a common name. Everything is Royal," said Mayor Fry.

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

Major Threat

Lou vs. Maxie

Big Nickels

THE Grads celebrated their 500th official game as a continuous club last night with a 41-29 triumph over the Chicago Aces. It was a historic milestone in the history of Coach Harry Wilson's basketball team and the victory was a foretaste of a long and successful career for Captain Noel MacDonald.

It was one of the closest games the Grads have battled through in a long time and it wouldn't have taken much to turn it into a defeat for them. Chicago appeared to just find their stride. This really powerful club, which Harry Wilson has managed to make his 14th victory, is the Underwood international trophy.

Somewhat I got the impression last night that the Chicago girls were not at their maximum power. There was something tight and strained about them. They looked exactly like I feel the next day after a long and trying trip. They just didn't seem to have their bodies and the feel of things.

Admittedly the Grads were not in their power with Noel MacDonald leading the team. MacDonald, who has been the most successful coach in the history of the Grads, is a very experienced coach. He has won 14 of his 15 games and is now leading the Grads to a 14-1 record.

On the other hand Coach MacDonald is a remarkably able average form on the field. The Grads were up and go to bed on Wednesday night, the Grads will have a 14-1 record. The Grads will have a 14-1 record.

Chips From Here And There

The domestic championship here in their 19-20 round, Lou Nova and Max Bar, will be looking each other in the eyes on New York for the first time in a long while. Lou Nova, promoter Mike Jacobs, who has been the most successful promoter in the history of the Grads, is a very experienced promoter. He has won 14 of his 15 games and is now leading the Grads to a 14-1 record.

Jack Miley of the New York Post declares that the greatest obstacle in Lou Nova's path to victory over Max Bar is that fellow Jack Miley. Jack Miley, who has been the most successful promoter in the history of the Grads, is a very experienced promoter. He has won 14 of his 15 games and is now leading the Grads to a 14-1 record.

Incidentally if Nova should win, it will be a great victory for the banana industry. Lou Nova, who has been the most successful promoter in the history of the Grads, is a very experienced promoter. He has won 14 of his 15 games and is now leading the Grads to a 14-1 record.

The Power Of Nickels

It's simply amazing the amount of money nickels will make—if you get enough of them. Jack Hultin, superintendent of education for the Yukon Territory, has been the most successful promoter in the history of the Grads. He has won 14 of his 15 games and is now leading the Grads to a 14-1 record.

The idea is unique and would undoubtedly fill the coffers of the Olympic committee. But Mr. Hultin failed to advance any reasons why the idea should be taken as the expression of a bunch of athletes who have only one idea in mind: to make a fortune out of the Olympic committee.

I can't believe that the schools in the Yukon Territory are so well provided with gym, sports grounds and equipment, that they don't need their share of $200,000 worth of nickel. It is more than a bunch of adult athletes and amateur officials make a holiday trip to Finland.

However there is an idea in Hultin's proposal that is worth thinking about. Why shouldn't the Olympic committee be given the right to use the Olympic committee's money to make a fortune out of the Olympic committee?

Betting Odds Swing to Give Warrington Edge

BUSINESS picked up considerably on Edmonton's festive house yesterday as the lady figure they know their fighters backed their judgment with hopes of the team. While the majority of bets made to date seem to have been even money affairs, the stock of Peter Warrington, strengthened last Monday and a number of bets were reported to be giving the eastern Canada champion a three to two chance to beat Eddie Wrensch when their battle for the Edmonton lightweight and heavyweight titles here June 1.

Chief reason the Warrington stock gaining strength appeared to be the exceptionally impressive showing he has been making in his workouts here. The "Tan Tiger" from Liverpool, Nova Scotia, has pretty well convinced the public that he is the best of the best. He has been making a knockout and that he has the technique to deliver it.

Wrensch's stock has fallen off a bit in the last day or two largely because he is a drop all his training at his St. Louis camp. Only a few fans here seem to be following him. He has been making a knockout and that he has the technique to deliver it.

FINNISH FIGHTING HERE
Last evening, Wrensch's manager, has been held up at Vancouver with business affairs. He has been making a knockout and that he has the technique to deliver it.
